Holy as God: Scott Hahn Reflects on the Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time.

We are called to the holiness of God. That is the extraordinary claim made in both the First Reading and Gospel this Sunday.

Yet how is possible that we can be perfect as our Father in heaven is perfect?

Jesus explains that we must be imitators of God as his beloved children.

As God does, we must love without limit—with a love that does not distinguish between friend and foe, overcoming evil with good.

Jesus himself, in his Passion and death, gave us the perfect example of the love that we are called to.

He offered no resistance to the evil—even though he could have commanded twelve legions of angels to fight alongside him. He offered his face to be struck and spit upon. He allowed his garments to be stripped from him. He marched as his enemies compelled him to the Place of the Skull. On the cross he prayed for those who persecuted him.

In all this he showed himself to be the perfect Son of God. By his grace, and through our imitation of him, he promises that we too can become children of our heavenly Father.

God does not deal with us as we deserve, as we sing in this week's Psalm. He loves us with a Father's love. He saves us from ruin. He forgives our transgressions.

He loved us even when we had made ourselves his enemies through our

We have been bought with the price of the blood of God's only Son. We belong to Christ now, as St. Paul says in this week's Epistle. By our baptism, we have been made temples of his Holy Spirit.

And we have been saved to share in his holiness and perfection. So let us glorify him by our lives lived in his service, loving as he loves.

Santo como Dios: Scott Hahn reflexiona sobre el 7o domingo de tiempo ordinario

Somos llamados a la santidad de Dios. Esta es la extraordinaria afirmación de la primera lectura y el evangelio de este domingo.

Y sin embargo- como es posible ser perfectos como nuestro Padre en el cielo es perfecto?

Jesús explica que debemos ser imitadores de Dios como sus hijos amados.

Como Dios, debemos amar sin límites, con un amor que no distingue entre amigo y enemigo, venciendo el mal con el bien.

Jesús mismo, en su pasión y muerte, nos dio un ejemplo perfecto del amor a que nos llama.

El no ofreció resistencia al mal, aunque podía haber llamado a 12 legiones de ángeles a protegerlo. Le bofetearon su cara y le escupieron. Le quitaron sus vestiduras. Así se encaminó obligado por sus enemigos al lugar del Gólgota). En la cruz oro por los que lo persiguieron.

En todo esto mostro ser el perfecto Hijo de Dios. Por su gracia, y por la imitación de Él podemos ser también hijos e hijas de nuestro padre celestial.

Dios no nos trata como merecemos, así cantamos en el salmo de esta semana. Nos ama con el amor de un Padre. Nos rescata de la ruina. Nos perdona nuestros pecados.

Nos amó hasta cuando nos hicimos sus enemigos por nuestros pecados. Todavía éramos pecadores cuando Cristo murió por nosotros.

Hemos sido comprados por el precio de la sangre del Hijo único de Dios. Pertenece a Cristo ahora, como dice San Pablo en la epístola de hoy. Por nuestro bautismo fuimos hechos templos de su Espíritu Santo.

Y fuimos salvados para compartir en su santidad y perfección. Entonces glorifiquémoslo por nuestras vidas de servicio, amando como El ama.

DIVINE WISDOM

The Lord's message, through Moses, was to "take no revenge and cherish no grudge . . . love your neighbor as yourself" (Leviticus 19:18). We might think, "Great in theory, but not always realistic!"

Then Jesus in today's Gospel goes even further. Take a slap in the face and then turn the other cheek? Treat enemies the same as friends? Again, we're tempted to think that those are nice ideals, but not very practical in the "real world."

Paul echoes Jesus when he tells the Corinthians that what passes for human wisdom is absurdity to God. Divine wisdom casts sunshine on the good and the bad, showers rain on the honest and the dishonest—without distinction. We must examine our wisdom and common sense to see how they compare to the wisdom of God, and make adjustments accordingly.
